Hi Ted,

Sorry for the delay – this is the feedback I received from our Support Manager:

We need to receive a subpoena directly from law enforcement to release any commenter information. They can contact priority.support@disqus.com with a subpoena or court order on official letterhead.

I understand this isn't directly what is requested, but is part of fulfilling our obligations to Disqus Terms of Service and the law.

The direct comment link will help our team address a request promptly:

Kindly,

Michael

Michael,

The US Marshals have contacted The Gateway Pundit's attorneys about this particular comment. If you're able to provide any additional info about this person, TGP's attorneys will pass that along to the US Marshals to follow up with him and ensure that he's not a real threat. I'm assuming the guy was just spouting off, but doxing a judge is just plain bad, a different level of bad.

Ted.
